Supervisors set millage, Ladner asks for separate school tax listing

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has approved its 40.7 millage rate for the 1987-88 fiscal year, along with a request that the Hancock County Tax Assessor and Collector's office show a separate listing of county school district taxes on its bills.

The board increased the county's millage by 5.9 percent, but most of the overall 15 percent increase in total millage will go to the Hancock County School District.

Last year's rate was 35.8 mills for the county, while the school district taxes have increased from 25.12 mills to 35.8, County Comptroller Ken Walker said.

In addition, residents of Kiln, Diamondhead, East Hancock and BaySide Park fire protection districts will find themselves paying four additional mills special tax for fire protection services.

Board Attorney Gerald Gex said the supervisors have no control over the millage set for the county school district.

"We just rubber-stamp it and that's it. That's what the law tells us to do," the attorney explained.

Beat Three Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner asked that the tax billings continue to carry the separate listing for the school district, which was originally requested last year by A.A. Kellar, then board president.

Ladner was concerned that the board would be criticized for the raising taxes by people who did not realize that the school district was mandating more than half of the increase.

The combined millage, excluding the fire districts, include 19.34 mills for the county general fund, 3.05 for road and bridge maintenance, 1.74 for road and bridge construction, 3 mills tax for support of the sheriff's department, one mill tax mandated by the state, one mill tax to replace a state tax formerly retained for the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission, two mills for reappraisal loan repayment; and 1.33 mills for the Pearl River Junior College Fund.

In addition, the millage includes .32 mills for constructing and equipping the Pearl River Junior College-Hancock County Vocational Center at Stennis Airport, .27 mills for maintenance of the vocational center; 1.84 for minimum education fund; 22.10 for the county school district maintenance fund, .71 for kindergarten implementation, 10.93 percent for school construction, .10 for the county fairgrounds bond, .24 for Pearl River Basin Development District, 2.80 for Hancock County jail construction bond and 1.57 for Hancock Medical Center bond.

According to Reappraisal Specialist Lee Bennett, some people in the county live inside the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District and will be affected by those taxes, set at 38.85 mills.

The biggest break this year goes again to the owner-occupants of single family residents, being assessed at 10 percent of appraised value rather than the 15 percent assessed on second homes or other types of property.

Bennett provided examples of the taxes an individual homeowner might have to pay based on the value of his home and the amount of increase in the millage.

A person living in a $25,000 home that is assessed at 10 percent, for example, paid $44.08 in 1986 county taxes alone. This year, his county taxes would amount to $49.68, a $5.60 or 13 percent increase.

If he lives in the county school district, that same homeowner would have paid a combined tax of 55.88 last year, which this year will increase $31.75 or 57 percent to a total of $87.63, including his homestead exemption credit.

His taxes for the school district alone would be $37.95 this year, a $26.15 increase.

If he lives in the Bay-Waveland School District, he paid a school tax of $46.13 last year and will have to pay the same amount this year.

With a 15 percent assessment, combined taxes on that same home were $236.81 last year without a homestead exemption credit. This year, those taxes are $284.44, an increase of $47.63 or 20 percent.

Hancock County taxes alone account for $151.10 of that amount, while Hancock County School District taxes amount to $133.43, increases over $142.61 and $94.20 respectively.

Bennett said he also has figures available with the same breakdown for houses valued at $50,000, $75,000 and $100,000.

Chimney sweep combines tradition, modern methods

BY DENA BISNETTE

People walk up to Bobby Sullivan and touch him for good luck, or they hire him to vacuum out the chimneys of their houses.

Sullivan, of Saucier, runs Top Hat Chimney Sweeps' Fireplace Store in Saucier with help from his wife, Ollie Sullivan, and his sister, Charlotte Edwards of Nacaise Crossing.

Sullivan has been a sweep for three years, donning the traditional English sweep's attire of top hat and tails for his work, and is the only professional licensed, bonded and insured chimney sweep in Mississippi.

He is presently the company's only sweep, but said he may have to add a helper if the business continues to grow.

His customers, scattered throughout the Gulf Coast area from the Alabama to the Louisiana borders, began asking him where they could purchase fireplace supplies, such as screens and inserts. Sullivan's answer was to open the Fireplace Store, located on Saucier-Lizana Road north of Gulfport.

Sullivan was working in the oilfield industry prior to starting his current occupation. He said he felt the oilfield business was taking him away from his home and family too much.

"I have to give God credit for this. I prayed about it, and the idea of being a chimney sweep just came to me," he explained.

His wife and sister watch the store while he is out sweeping chimneys. Although he wears the traditional costume, he does not sweep chimneys the traditional way.

In the old days, a master sweep was in charge of a group of children, usually boys between the ages of four and 12 who had been purchased from orphanages and poor families. These sweeps climbed bodily in the crooked English chimneys to scrub away flammable creosote deposits and soot.

The flexible brushes used by sweeps in other European countries were an improvement over this method, but brushes alone tend to mess up a house with ash and soot, Sullivan said.

Now, brushes and a special dust-free vacuum cleaner are used.

The vacuum cleaner, known as a soft sweeper, was invented by August West, who revived the chimney sweep trade in the northern United States in the early 1970s when shortages of petroleum fuels led many people to start using fireplaces and wood-burning stoves again, the sweep explained.

He said West developed the soft sweeper because he too was having trouble with ash getting into houses.

Sullivan says modern chimney sweeping equipment actually enables him to do most of his work inside the house rather than from the roof.

"Doing it right won't make a mess. I do 90 percent of my work right inside the house and I don't have to get on most roofs," he explained.

"You can't do a 100 percent cleaning job from the top. One of the most dangerous spots in a chimney is the smoke shelf, which is right behind the fireplace opening, and you don't really get that if you only work from the top."

Most of the actual work on roofs consists of installing or replacing items like screens to keep birds out.

A common problem in the South is a type of swallow called a chimney sweep, which likes to nest in chimneys.

"If you've ever had birds in your chimney, you know they make lots of noise. They'll keep you up all night and all day too. They also carry all types of diseases and mites," Sullivan said.

Most of his customers are average to high income people who pay him around $50 for cleaning their chimneys, although fees may vary depending on the difficulty of the job or whether Sullivan is working for a repeat customer.

"The people I work for are almost always very nice. They like to visit about what I'm doing, because it's unique. A lot of them have never seen this done."

He said he has had some questions about the fee, which a few people have felt was not high enough considering the dangers that chimney sweeping will alleviate.

Creosote and the other flammable deposits that build up on the inside of a chimney, making it look black and fuzzy, can catch fire, Sullivan explained.

He described a chimney fire as looking like "a great big Roman candle," explaining that strips of the flammable material will peel off and be thrown out of the chimney as fireballs, possibly igniting the roof or other parts of the house, neighboring buildings or the surrounding yard.

Smoke from a chimney fire is extremely heavy and will usually

REVIVING AN OLD TRADE—Bobby Sullivan of Saucier uses a flexible wire brush to clean the opening of a chimney at a neighbor's home. Sullivan, the only licensed and bonded chimney sweep in South Mississippi, is helping to revive an old trade largely abandoned in the United States until the energy crunch of the early 1970s put many unused fireplaces and wood-burning stoves back to work. Regional, county wastewater districts approve two contract amendments

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Wastewater District No. 1 Board of Commissioners and the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District Board have approved two contract amendments regarding a proposed sewerage collection system for part of Hancock County.

The collection system, the fourth part of a regional wastewater district improvement project currently underway, is expected to receive 85 percent grant funding from U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, with the remaining 15 percent to come from state and local monies.

The amendments are additions to the original Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District's contract with Bay St. Louis and Waveland for the same services, regional wastewater board attorney Lucien Gex said.

One amendment covers treatment of wastewater brought in by the collection system to the Waveland treatment plant, currently being expanded to handle the additional load when the Bay St. Louis and Waveland collection systems are linked and when the county system is added.

The other one covers operation and maintenance of the county system by the regional wastewater district until such time as the county is able to take over operation of the system or until 1993, whichever comes first, Gex explained.

Under the terms of the contract, the county must take over no later than the third year after completion of construction, which is expected to be finished in 1990.

Gex said the three-year time limit

No agreement has been reached at this point on collections of user fees, currently estimated at $30. The fees will probably be set when construction is begun, which is expected in January.

The proposed amendments are scheduled to be presented to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors on Sept. 29, according to Roger Dale Ladner, who serves as the county representative to the regional wastewater board.

My tears still fall upon my face; my heart, Dear Son, continues to ache, for it seems like only yesterday you were beside me, here to stay.

But our Lord saw your grief, your sorrow and pain that you so proudly bore.

He looked upon you with heartfelt eyes and said, "This one I must spare."

He took you in His arms that day and rocked you, oh, so close, and like a mother wiped your tears and said, "Don't cry, my son, for I am here."

Baton Rouge man dies

A 23-year-old Baton Rouge, La. man struck by a car on U.S. 90 west of Pass Christian on Labor Day weekend died in a Gulfport hospital of head injuries sustained in that accident.

Joel West, who walked in front of a car at Henderson Point on Sept. 6, died last week before 2 p.m. Thursday, said Joe Gazzo, public affairs officer for Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol.

Gazzo said West had been on life-support systems since the accident.

West was the sixth pedestrian killed on U.S. 90 this year. Four of the deaths occurred between May 28 and June 9.

West became the 58th person to die this year in traffic-related accidents in Harrison, Jackson, Hancock and Stone counties.

Last year at this time, 47 people had been killed on the roadways in this four-county area.

Shoreline Park resident pleads

A Shoreline Park man who is serving a nine-year sentence for aggravated assault in Louisiana has been sentenced to two years for selling drugs in Hancock County.

Milford L. Craft Jr., 31, was sentenced before Circuit Judge James E. Thomas after pleading guilty to selling cocaine and marijuana to an undercover officer in July 1986.

The two one-year sentences are to be served at the same time, and with the Louisiana sentence, Thomas ordered. Craft also will be given credit for the nine months that he spent in jail here.

Bay man gets one year in grand larceny case

A Bay St. Louis man has received a one-year prison sentence after pleading guilty to grand larceny of an auto in July 1986.

Ricky Lewis, 23, was arrested after the theft and placed in the old Hancock County jail. While there, he escaped.

He later was brought back from Florida, where he had also pleaded guilty to a charge of auto theft.

That prior conviction made him ineligible for probation, Thomas said, even though the Florida theft occurred after the Hancock County theft.

Lewis was not indicted for the jail escape, but when Thomas questioned him about it, Lewis explained that "The door was open and it was getting close to Christmas."

Judge suspends sentence in woman's forgery case

A Bayside Park woman has received a suspended sentence for forgery and been placed on good behavior for three years.

Deborah Bane, 26, also was fined $500 and ordered to report to a probation officer once a month for potential drug screening.

Bane pleaded guilty to the forgery charge in May, but Circuit Judge James E. Thomas deferred sentencing her then because, he said, he was worried about the welfare of her children, ages 3, 7, and 9.

"That's still my primary concern," he said when he gave her a suspended sentence.

Pass man pleads guilty to manslaughter

A Pass Christian man, charged with shooting and killing his step-sister after running her off the road in 1986, pleaded guilty Monday to a reduced charge of manslaughter.

Circuit Judge James Thomas accepted the plea of 18-year-old Charles Thomas Young, but delayed sentencing pending a pre-sentence report.

Young originally was charged with murder in the Feb. 5, 1986, killing of Barbara Young Breland of Long Beach.

Assistant district Attorney Gray Burdick said that young had argued with Breland and his aunt shortly before the shooting.

Burdick said that Young began chasing Breland east on 28th Street in Gulfport and rammed his pickup truck into her car, forcing it off the road near 40th Avenue.

Police said that Young stepped from his truck and shot Breland three times with a .44-caliber Marlin rifle.

She was pronounced dead at the scene.

Young turned himself into police a few minutes after the shooting.

Burdick said that prosecutors agreed to reduce the charge because the shooting stemmed from a domestic argument.

No date has been set for Young's sentencing.

The United Way needs your help

The United Way of Hancock County will begin its 23rd fund raising campaign tomorrow with a 'dutch treat' breakfast.

Guest speaker for the kickoff will be Mississippi State Supreme Court Judge J. Ruble Griffin of Bay St. Louis.

The breakfast with Pat Harvill, UW director and kick-off breakfast chairman, will get underway at 7:30 a.m. at the Wheel-Inn Restaurant, US-90, Bay St. Louis.

The Hancock County United Way officers, directors, campaign chairman and co-chairmen have been working very hard in recent weeks preparing for a record goal of $65,000.

One of the reasons for increasing the campaign goal in 1987, is because of the addition of a new agency in addition to some one-time gifts to some very important community needs.

There are 17 agencies now supported by the Hancock United Way, with the Food Pantry being the newest.

Most of you know, there are many folks in our midst who are less fortunate than most of us.

The Food Pantry provides a much needed service to many of our residents in a serious time of need.

There are so many residents of our county who benefit from the United Way in some way or another, people of all ages, from the very young all the way through the very old.

The United Way is able to work in our county only through the generous contributions of our residents, no matter how big or small.

Lonnie Clayborn, a UW director and 1987 campaign chairman is hoping to top the goal of $65,000 with the help of everyone.

Persons interested in making a contribution can do so by sending it to: United Way of Hancock County, P.O. Box 142, Bay St. Louis, MS. 39520.

SUPERVISORS MAKE SWITCH
Rankin County supervisors were true to their word last week in following voter support for the county unit system with a unanimous vote to adopt the system.

Rankin supervisors earlier this year said no to the unit system, but agreed to let the voters have a voice on the subject on the August 4 ballot. Public sentiment was clear. More than 70 percent of those voting showed support for the consolidated form of government.

Though the referendum vote was nonbinding, the supervisors said they would vote in the unit system if that's what the people wanted. Last week they did just that.

With little debate, the supervisors adopted the more efficient form of county government with an implementation date of January 1.

It's good news that Rankin County is joining 20 other counties in the state that adopted the unit system.

However, the process of putting the unit system question on the ballot is an unnecessary one.

Supervisors are elected to serve the best interests of their county residents. The unit system, regardless of the county, is always the better system.

Supervisors in Mississippi counties should not delay implementation of the unit system to take a poll of voters on the subject. Voters always want the best services for their money, and the referendum outcomes are not binding.

Congratulations to Rankin County for adopting the unit system. Residents in that county, as well as county officials, soon will see the benefits of the system.

And other counties in the state should get on with the business of adopting the unit system.

The only vote necessary to adopt the unit system in each county is a favorable one by each county's five supervisors.

REPORT TO MISSISSIPPIANS

Constitutional Rights Threatened by Current Campaign System

The U.S. Constitution, which recently celebrated its 200th birthday, guarantees each individual in every state and Congressional district the right to elect his or her representative to Congressional office. This right, however, is being infringed upon by the high cost of campaigns and the large sums of money coming from outside the state or district where the election is held.

Last year, successful candidates each spent an average of over $3 million in winning election to the Senate. At the same time, the amount donated to campaigns by Political Action Committees (PACs) reached roughly $140 million - a 25% increase over the previous year. I believe the amount and sources of money spent in Senate campaigns is harmful to our country and a blot on the integrity of the Senate.

Reform of our current campaign finance system is an essential issue that should be acted upon by the Congress. However, opponents to legislation that would correct the situation have successfully prevented the Senate from acting on the reform during this session. The Senate calendar will not allow for the measure to be considered again this year.

Reform of campaign financing laws remains a crucial issue which must be addressed despite the Senate's failure to act on proposed legislation this year. This is not a problem that is going to disappear. In fact, it is certain to get worse unless we find a way to turn the tide of rising campaign costs in a meaningful way.

Our current system of campaign finance diminishes the importance of the average voter in favor of the wealthy and the special interests. We must return to the principles of Constitutional democracy and we must restore the integrity of the Senate. We must find a way to protect the interests of the people and insure their individual rights in electing their representatives to Congress.

The current system of financing election campaigns is bad for the candidates and bad for the people who have the right to elect their representatives without so much involvement from outside. I will continue to work on this matter, as I know others who understand the dangers will.

The Hawks of Hancock North Central will try to add another victory on Friday as they are hosted by the Pirates of Pass Christian who will be trying to get into the win column at Pass stadium.

Head coach Irvin Favre's Hawks had an open date last week and should be ready for Alton Wright's Pirates.

Pass Christian would have to come up with a super game to tame the Hawks, and that is always possible.

The Rock-A-Chaws of St. Stanislaus will be home for the fourth week in a row when they host Long Beach.

Stanislaus rolled to a strong second victory of the season last week under the leadership of head mentor Ken Lyons.

The Bearcats have always been a strong football team and could be a stumbling block for the Rocks if they do not take them seriously.

The Tigers of Bay High continued to roll up the points last week in defeating Pearl River Central.

This week Bay High's head mentor Cleveland Williams and his Tigers will journey to Vancleave.

The Bulldogs have always played tough close games and the Tigers will have to be in their prime to continue their winning ways.

Coach Williams had to be proud of the Tigers' last two performances.

The Tigers, Hawks, Pirates and Rock-A-Chaws all need good fan support on Friday.

Team players would like to see a lot of fans in the bleachers supporting every play.

We hope to see you at the game.

A big event at Diamondhead on Saturday will be the Fifth Annual Arts & Creative Crafts Show.

There are so many craftsmen who will be exhibiting their hand-crafted items and art works.

Some 150 exhibitors are expected, many from previous shows.

This may be a time for many folks to start thinking about a gift for someone special.

By the way, there will be a nice selection of food available.

The show will be from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. on the circle of the Diamondhead Country Club. Admission is free.

A portion of the proceeds is dedicated to Diamondhead Academy.

The Fenton Volunteer Fire Department will sponsor a Spaghetti Dinner and Turkey Shoot on Sunday.

As many of you know, most of the residents of the Fenton Community have been working very hard in recent years putting together a Volunteer Fire Department.

The Fenton Volunteer Fire Department has already purchased property and is now in the process of raising funds to construct a building.

The Spaghetti Dinner and Turkey Shoot will start at 11:30 a.m. and will be held at the Fenton Community Center.

We can well remember when there was only one fire department in the whole of Hancock County.

It has been through the efforts of other groups like the one in the Fenton Community that we now have the fire departments we now have in Hancock County, and they are improving every year.

We wish the Fenton Volunteer Fire Department well and hope their fundraiser will be a success.

The General Election in November is now only a little over a month away.

This is for new residents who have not as yet registered to vote; if you have already registered in Hancock County, it is not necessary to re-register.

Friday, Oct. 2 at 5 p.m. is the deadline for registering in order to be able to vote in the November General Election.

A person may register at the Hancock County Circuit Clerk's office in the Courthouse in Bay St. Louis or at the Bay St. Louis or Waveland City Hall.

We had a visit on Tuesday morning by a school bus driver whose route includes dangerous Highway 603.

She was telling us about how some motorists pay no attention to school bus flashing lights when they are loading or unloading students.

This lady, like many other dedicated bus drivers, is afraid of one of her passengers being struck by a vehicle.

Folks, it is a state law not to pass a school bus when students are loading or unloading.

It is possible a few folks may need a citation to wake them up.

'America by Design' METV series opens Monday

"America by Design" is a five-part series beginning Monday, Sept. 28 at 8 p.m. on Mississippi ETV.

Mississippi Authority for Educational Television is joined by the Mississippi Chapter/American Institute of Architects in announcing this special new series, hosted by architectural historian and author Spiro Kostof.

Mr. Kostof says, "In design, the final measure of success rests not in shapes but in the rituals our designs play host to—which means us." "We are all designers of America," he said. We are the ones who fill the buildings, roads, and the land with life, and so give an identity to our nation.

The series portrays America as one design, made out of 'whole cloth,' continuous over time and geography. This lively and provocative perspective, developed by Mr. Kostof forms the basis for the five-part series. Each segment will tell the story of the people and events that give shape to America—our houses, workplaces, streets, public places and monuments, and the land itself.

"When the series is over, we hope our viewers will perceive their surroundings and their role in shaping America with new eyes," said Werner Schumann, producer-director.

Mississippi architectural firms have joined with ETV, the American Institute of Architects and other agencies in sponsorship of the series. Providing support for the first program in the series: "America by Design: The House" are the Mississippi firms: S. J. Tumminello, Architect & Associates; William P. Joseph Jr., AIA, Architects PA; McCarty Architects; and Charles D. Loper, Architect.

This first program explores the evolution of the American house as a symbol of the American dream—its shape, its history, what is says to us, and what it represents.

'Project Marine Discovery' open to students

OCEAN SPRINGS—Sea Grant and the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory (GCRL) have joined forces on "Project Marine Discovery," a new field trip opportunity for schools. Dr. James I. Jones, director of the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium, announced today.

Project Marine Discovery introduces students to the marine environment through a three-hour schedule packed with activities and experiences led by trained project volunteers at GCRL's J. L. Scott Marine Education Center in Biloxi.

Sessions are from 9 a.m.-12 noon on Tuesdays and Thursdays beginning Thursday, Sept. 24. Groups of up to 120 students from public and private schools from kindergarten through 12th grade may participate in the program, Jones said. Groups can make reservations for Project Marine Discovery by calling 374-5550.

Each group participates in hands-on activities in the Discovery demonstration lab, guided tours of the marine center's aquariums, outdoor studies of marine environments and slide and video presentations designed for that age group.

"Volunteers in this type program are known as 'docents,'" Sea Grant Education specialist Sharon Walker said.

"They are, in effect, unpaid teachers, intensively trained. The commitment and excitement of our docents is one of our strengths. They have spread enthusiasm so effectively that we are already booked through early December."

Walker developed the program and is project coordinator. She and GCRL fisheries biologist Leslie Bruce, co-coordinator of the program, have recruited and trained docents.

Docents are Ms. Micky Edwards, Ms. Sandra Edwards, Ms. Kris Byrd, Ms. Janice Roberts, Ms. Bertha Lane, Ms. Christine Henze, Ms. Dixie McClain, and Mr. Jim Denyer, all of Ocean Springs; Dr. Shelia Brown and Ms. Peggy Corcoran, Gulfport; Ms. Judy Pilcher, Biloxi; and Ms. Galke Singley, Pascagoula.

VFW Auxiliary officer to participate in Yazoo City event

Bayou Cadet Post No. 4808 Veterans of Foreign Wars Ladies Auxiliary Senior Vice President Audrey S. Heyd of Lakeshore plans to attend a statewide reception honoring the organization's Mississippi Department president Thursday, Oct. 10 in Yazoo City.

The VFW and its Ladies Auxiliary in Mississippi will honor State President Florence Bennett at a celebration at Ray Davis, her home post, Post No. 4302 in Yazoo City.

Mrs. Bennett has been a member of the Ladies Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars for many years and has served her auxiliary as president and has also served as District 9 president several years.

A reception at the Post Home is slated for 1 p.m. honoring Mrs. Bennett, with a luncheon program to follow.

Members and friends from throughout the state are expected to attend this event.

Mrs. Bennett's theme this year is "Strength in Unity for Freedom" and her symbol is the American Eagle. The over 7,300 members of the 80 Auxiliaries in the state will be working with Mrs. Bennett to accomplish the goals of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Ladies Auxiliary.

The Ladies Auxiliary to VFW is a service organization dedicated to promoting patriotism, protecting veterans rights, helping hospitalized and homeless veterans and their families and conducting projects to benefit the communities in which they live.

One of the special projects of the Auxiliary is support of the Mississippi Firefighters Memorial Burn Center in Greenville. Mrs. Bennett has been employed

BY KATY MC GUIRE CAIRE

"America's shopping list is changing dramatically. Nowhere is this change more evident than in the produce departments of our supermarkets...bins and counters bursting with almost triple the number of items available to us a little over a decade ago..."

"Globetrotting American chefs and a recent surge of immigration to this country from Asia and Latin America have created an enthusiasm for regional and ethnic cuisines...adventuresome home cooks are eager to follow..."

So begins a delightful—and instructive soft cover cookbook and treatise, "The New Harvest"—subtitled "A Cook's Guide to Exotic Fruits and Unusual Vegetables," published by 101 Productions, San Francisco, Calif., distributed by The MacMillan Publishing Company, New York ($9.95).

Its "know-whereof-they-write-and-cook-authors are Lou Seibert Pappas, food editor of the Peninsula Times Tribune in Palo Alto, Calif., contributor to Gourmet magazine and author of 16 cookbooks, and Jane Horn, cookbook writer and editor.

And, along with the exotic vegetables, we find some old-fashioned favorites, perhaps some of America's earliest known, perhaps some known and enjoyed through the years in one section or another of our country.

Alphabetically arranged as to the vegetables and fruits, with bits of history and points on cooking the vegetable or fruit, or using it raw, this little book is further embellished by delightful line illustrations and color photographs—that's a help when you're wandering along the bins, isn't it?

There's even a list of direct mail sources for seeds and 150 recipes for using these fruits and vegetables!

And, along with the excursion into the exotic, we meet again old friends, newly revived or newly offered—such as the good, good greens, familiar to any Southern cook, for instance, but with a lighter approach.

Take for instance, mustard greens, one of my favorites—if you don't like, try this. Instead of cooking down and down and down, as was the case in earlier days, try:

MUSTARD GREENS SAUTE

As we all know, mustard leaves are one of the more biting and bitter of the cooked greens, and have often been called an "acquired taste" the "old way" was to cook for ages down to a pulp with salt pork or ham or such. But, try this.

1 lb. mustard greens, trimmed, with the tough stems discarded
2 Tbsp. olive oil
1 clove garlic, minced
½ tsp. dried oregano, crushed
1 lemon, cut in wedges

Cut stems and leaves of greens crosswise into one-inch strips. In a skillet or wok saute in the oil with the garlic over medium heat till crisp-tender, about 2 to 4 minutes. Serve with lemon wedges.

More than 80 vegetables and fruits are highlighted in this book, some of which I had never heard, some of which are quite familiar to me, especially the chayote, the pear-shaped squash, part of the diet of the Aztecs and the Mayans and other cultures long, long before the Spanish colonists arrived in America.

The chayote, the vegetable pear, the squash—that's our own mirliton, one of the cornerstones of Creole cooking—that's one of the reasons this book is such fun to read and to work from when you're in a cooking mood. Please don't ask to borrow my copy—it's already "cookstained" in the kitchen and about to stay that way—I keep referring to it!

Do you have any idea who was the biggest man ever to play pro football?...Answer is Les Binghamman who played for the Detroit Lions from 1948 through 1954...He set the pro football record in 1954 when he weighed in at 341 pounds.

Oddly enough, here's a football question that looks easy, but it's surprising how few fans—even the real good ones—can answer it...Try it on your friends and see...The question is this: Everybody knows a football field is 100 yards long from goal line to goal line—but, do you know how WIDE a football field is?...A football field is 160 feet, or 53 1/3 yards wide.

Ever wonder where the tradition started of having a band at football games...It was at Notre Dame, which was the first college in America to have a band...Their band first marched at a football game in 1888...They really started something, didn't they?

WITH A LITTLE HELP from his sister, Charlotte Edwards of Necaise Crossing, left, Bobby Sullivan of Saucier prepares to go out on a chimney sweeping job. cause damage throughout a house, if the house survives the fire, he added.

A contributing factor in many of the South's chimney fires is the use of pine wood, which tends to deposit more flammable material on the inside of the chimney than many types of wood burned in the rest of the U.S.

A clean chimney also burns more efficiently, Sullivan added.

He explained that many of the items he sells are designed to save his customers money in the long run as well as promote safety, such as the fireplace inserts, which he said can save up to 50 percent on a heating bill.

In addition to feeling that he provides a needed service, Sullivan likes his job because he meets all types of people.

"I've met people who have come to this area from all over the world. I enjoy sitting around talking with them and learning all about different types of people and the places they've lived," he said.

In addition, Sullivan has become involved in many of the legends surrounding a chimney sweep.

According to English tradition, shaking hands with or touching a sweep brings good luck.

Edwards said she has been out with her brother while he was dressed in his working clothes and has found that people know about the tradition.

"The outfit draws a lot of attention to him, but everyone in business needs a gimmick. We've gone out handing out his business cards in different places and a lot of people have come up to touch Bobby."

In addition, the English also believed that a bride would have a long and happy marriage if she happened to see a sweep walking toward her on her wedding day.

Sullivan said he has recently been approached by someone who wants him to attend a wedding as a chimney sweep rather than as a relative or guest.

"One lady in Gulfport has even asked me if I would attend her tea party," he said.

"This is an interesting business," Sullivan added.

For more information on chimney safety, sweeping and fireplace related products, Sullivan can be reached at 832-7648.

Bay Police nab fugitive

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A convicted fugitive from Georgia was arrested on Saturday by Bay St. Louis patrolmen.

Bay Chief Detective David Murtagh said, "Ernie L. Aldredge, 35, Rt. 2, Lula, Ga. is being held in the Hancock County jail as Rivers Institution (a Georgia prison) authorities are in the process of seeking his return."

Aldredge was arrested by Bay

The fugitive reportedly walked off a work detail in Georgia, Murtagh said, as he was serving time for murder, incest, and aggravated sodomy.

The extradition process by Georgia authorities should take from two weeks to a month, Murtagh added.

DISPLAY TORCHED—This entry in the Stop The Dump display contest on Dubuission Road was destroyed by fire last week. The display contest is one of several methods the Stop The Dump Committee is utilizing to keep the public aware of the impending location of a 110-acre solid waste landfill in the Dubuission Community. The committee is accepting entries in the display contest until Oct. 4. First prize will be a cash award of $50. (Staff photo by Brenda Heathcock)

Stop The Dump committee continues fight to keep landfill out of community

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

A hearing for the Stop the Dump committee's appeal against the approval of a permit for a 110-acre landfill in the Dubuission community is scheduled for Oct. 12.

According to President Mavis Newell, the committee has a better chance than ever to win the appeal and block the landfill from being located in the community.

The Oct. 12 hearing date has given the committee and our attorneys extra time to prepare a case, she said.

"I think we have a real good chance of winning the appeal with all the new evidence we have gathered," she said.

Earlier this year, the Mississippi Natural Resources Permit board granted a temporary permit for the landfill.

The committee is continuing to collect signatures on petitions against the landfill and has set a goal of 20,000 names, Newell said.

She said currently the committee has more than 6,500 names and is getting more signatures every day.

The committee is also conducting a Stop The Dump display contest to remind people of the possibility of the landfill locating in the community.

Fundraisers are also planned to get needed dollars to continue the fight to prevent Waste Management of Mississippi, Inc. from getting a permanent permit for the landfill, she added.

Newell also reported the committee has employed a second attorney in preparation for the appeal hearing.

Funds for the second attorney, John Maxi of Jackson, are being provided by the Attorney General's Office.

Bob Smith of Gulfport is also representing the committee.

Attorney General Ed Pittman authorized the committee to "retain an attorney at a rate not to exceed $75 per hour to represent the committee's interest in the matter of the sanitary landfill."

the scene of an accident and has been released on $2,500 bond, Seay stated.

Injured was 56-year-old Jesus Calix of Kiln, who was riding his bicycle on the old Kiln-Picayune Highway when the 4:30 p.m. accident occurred.

Assisting Seay were Deputies Nathan Hoda Sr., James Ladner and Matt Karl.

Bay man charged with hit-and-run

By DENA BISNETTE

A Bay St. Louis man has been arrested and charged with hit-and-run following a Tuesday afternoon accident in which a Kiln bicyclist was injured.

Hancock County Sheriff's Department Investigator Delbert Seay said Hugh David Hill of 536 DeMontluzin Street was arrested Tuesday evening.

He was also charged with leaving

VCJ gym to get repairs

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

The Valena C. Jones Complex gymnasium will be getting some repairs.

The Bay St. Louis City Council voted Tuesday to seek bids for a concrete floor for the gymnasium which has been unavailable for public use for several months.

The council had voted to close the gym for public use because of the deterioration of the wooden floor.

This flooring was recently removed and the concrete will be installed to make the gym usable.

City Clerk Edward Favre said Wednesday the council realized this was not the ideal type of flooring for a gymnasium but at least this would allow the gym to be used.

In the meantime Department of Public Works Superintendent Norbert Redmond says he is continuing to gather information and prices to see if it will be possible to install a finished type flooring instead of the concrete.

Redmond said there is a $12,000 budget to get the gym in useable shape.

Planned repairs and improvements include changing entrances to the gym floor, including a concession stand in the design, replacement or installation of safety features including smoke alarms and exit signs, checking the entire electrical system for problems, repairs to be made to the roof, general house cleaning including painting and checking for possible minor structural damage.

The work is to be completed by November 1, Redmond said.

In other action the board approved actions by the Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission including approving a motion for a single use permit for Pat Kingston to establish a Boutique and Thrift Shop at the intersection of Hancock and Sycamore Streets.

The commission stated in its motion the reason for granting the request is that it would appreciate the property.

The council also approved a commission motion to allow Edmond Fahey to resubdivide lots on Charles Street.

Favre to start against Texas A & M

HATTIESBURG—Freshman quarterback Brett Favre, who made his college football debut last Saturday, says he never dreamed he'd be named Southern Mississippi's starting quarterback for this Saturday's game against No. 16 Texas A&M, according to the Associated Press.

"This is real exciting," Favre said after being told of coach Jim Carmody's decision. "I thought they would use me like they did the other day."

Carmody injected Favre into his first college football game on Saturday and the 17-year-old Hancock North Central graduate responded by guiding the Golden Eagles to a 31-24 victory over Tulane.

Southern Mississippi meets Texas A&M Saturday at 1 p.m. in Mississippi Veterans Memorial Stadium in Jackson.

Carmody's decision moves the 6-foot-2, 198-pound Favre ahead of Ailrick Young, the starter in first two games, and second-team quarterback Simmie Carter.

Carmody said he and offensive coordinator Jack White made the decision Sunday night.

"I'm not one of those guys who say, 'Well, we'll let you know later in the week,'" Carmody said, "or say, 'We're going to determine the starter before the game starts on how they're doing in warmups."

"I don't like to drag something like this out, disrupting the football team. Plus, it's not fair to Ailrick or Simmie."

Young is listed behind Favre on the depth chart. Carter slips to No. 3.

Carmody said it was important to remember that Favre is only 17 and that he's going to make mistakes.

"We're going to have to be patient with him and do a good job of handling him as coaches," Carmody said. "We need to keep all the pressure that we can off of him."

Favre, replaced Carter in the third quarter of the game against Tulane and completed six of 10 passes for 85 yards and two touchdowns.

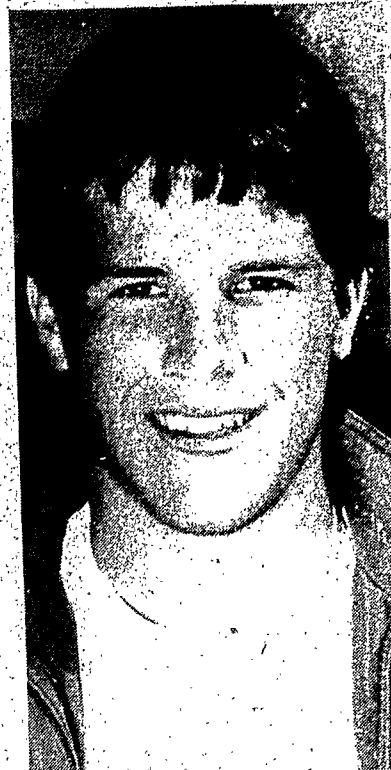

"A lot of people have been asking me where we've been hiding him," Carmody said. "He's only been here a month."

"I also want to note, we also told our other two quarterbacks, 'You may be playing more this week than you played last week,'" Carmody said, "We're not giving up on either one of those youngsters. They're both good quarterbacks and good athletes."

"I think they understand the situation. They saw what happened Saturday and hopefully they will continue to get more playing time this season."

Young, a junior from New Orleans, had been the starter since the start of spring drills. In two games, he completed eight of 16 passes for 80 yards with no touchdowns and two interceptions.

Carter, a redshirt freshman from Harvey, La., completed two of four passes for 16 yards with no touchdowns and an interception. His first collegiate pass, against Alabama was intercepted.

BRETT FAVRE

Freshman Brett Favre called off bench to spark USM victory over Tulane, 31-24

HATTIESBURG—The University of Southern Mississippi evened its record at 1-1 Saturday with a 31-24 victory over Tulane. The Green Wave dropped to 1-2.

Coach Jim Carmody's club now will host a strong Texas A&M team in Mississippi Memorial Stadium in Jackson Sept. 26 in a game that will start at 1 p.m.

The Aggies won last year's meeting between the two teams at College Station, 16-7.

Texas A&M will bring a 1-1 record into the game after posting a convincing 29-12 over 10th ranked Washington. The Aggies opened the season with a 17-3 loss to LSU.

In last year's game, the two teams fought to a scoreless standoff in the first half. However, Texas A&M got into position for three field goals to make the difference.

In Saturday's Golden Eagle victory over Tulane, USM got an outstanding rushing performance from tailback Shelton Gandy who had a career high of 187 yards on 36 carries and scored a pair of touchdowns.

In all, USM rushed for 228 yards, and threw for another 112, and the USM defense held the high-powered Tulane offense to 291 total yards while limiting quarterback Terrence Jones to 83 passing yards on eight of 24, three interceptions and no touchdowns.

The USM defense also did an outstanding job on Jones' favorite target, Heisman Trophy candidate wide receiver Marc Zeno, who managed only six catches for 68 yards.

USM punter Billy Knighten, coming off an untypical Knighten game against Alabama, was back in top form with seven kicks for 306 yards (43.7 avg.), and a pair of true freshmen turned in outstanding performances to aid the USM cause.

Subbing for an ailing Darrell Williams, free safety Kerry Valrie, 5-10, 182 pounds from Loxley, Ala., recorded a pair of interceptions and former Hancock North Central High School quarterback Brett Favre (6-2, 198) came off the bench in the second half to complete six of 10 passes for 85 yards and a pair of touchdowns. He also ran for 22 yards on six carries.

Laneaux repeats as Bay High's Player-of-the-Week

By EDGAR H. PEREZ

Tiger senior running back Brian Laneaux is nominated for Player-of-the-Week honors from Bay High for the second consecutive week.

Program sponsors—Loiacano's Health Club in Bay St. Louis and Rick's Trophies in Waveland—cited Laneaux after he scored three touchdowns and accumulated 215 yards on 17 carries.

On defense Laneaux is credited with a quarterback sack and five tackles in Bay High's 42-13 win over the Pearl River Central Blue Devils of Carriere Friday.

In the St. Stanislaus victory over Mercy Cross, junior wide receiver Freddy Wirstrom gathered in three aeriels for gains of 20, 17 and 40 yards each to win the weekly honors for the Rockachaws.

Outstanding offensive and defensive play figured in the selection of David Vontoure, a Pass Christian High senior, for a trophy honoring him as the outstanding Pirate this week.

Vontoure ran a fumble recovery for 60 yards and gained 22 yards rushing in six tries.

He is credited with six tackles on defense.

The Hancock North Central Hawks took a breather with an open date and the Coast Episcopal High Raider opponent forfeited that game.

Those two schools will return to the Player-of-the-Week listings following this weekend's contests.

Rocks expect tough battle against Long Beach squad

The Long Beach Bearcats invade St. Stanislaus Friday night to play the Rockachaws in a varsity football contest which both coaching staffs agree will be a hard fought, competitive battle.

Long Beach runs a multiple-T offensive system. Their passing game appears to be very good, although they have not thrown the ball a lot so far this season. The QB for the Bearcats appears to lead his team well.

On the other side of the field, the Rockachaws of Coach Ken Lyons have enjoyed two consecutive wins in a row over highly-rated St. John and Mercy Cross.

"Our team attitude is at its best," said Coach Lyons. "Our athletes are in a serious frame of mind and are determined to win."

"Long Beach is certainly one of the toughest teams on our schedule—if not the toughest! They would have beaten Gulfport had it not been for their kicking game. Their other losses have been to two very tough opponents: d'Iberville and Ocean Springs," stated Coach Lyons.

The comment was brought to Coach Lyons' attention that Long Beach always seems to look at the SSC game as a "breather" in their schedule, since the Rockachaws come between all the powerhouses the Bearcats play in their league each week.

"I hope they do consider this game a 'breather' against us," continued Lyons. "But, truthfully, I seldom worry about the attitudes of the opposition. I worry only about the attitude and frame-of-mind of our own players."

"To add to that comment, the senior class is beginning to show maturity and to take on responsibility. Our team pride finally has been developed."

Lyons appears eager for his troops to take the home field Friday against Long Beach.

Lyons said, "Fan support has been great, especially our parents, teachers, and administrators."

Kickoff for the SSC-Long Beach game is 7:30 p.m. in Rockachaw Stadium.

Hoping for homecoming upset

Tigers to take on Vancleave in fourth district game

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis Senior High Tigers travel to Vancleave Friday with hopes of upsetting the Bulldog homecoming.

The Bulldogs are currently two and one, having defeated Hopedale, Ala., and Perry County Central, two schools not on the Tiger schedule.

Vancleave's only loss has been to Bay High's Oct. 23 opponent, St. Martin, with the Bulldogs falling 17-7, Bay Head Coach Cleveland Williams said.

In addition, Vancleave has a new coach this year, Hal Holmes, formerly one of the coaches for state champion Picayune High.

"He has done a lot for the program there in turning it around," Williams said of the Vancleave coach.

"The Bulldogs have good size this year and a lot of quickness in their backfield," the Tiger coach said. "Offensively, they can be expected to run from a wing-T formation with a balanced attack."

On the other side, Williams said that Vancleave has been using "a 50 and 40 defense with a lot of stunting."

The Tigers are expected to have to go into the game without Dante Curry and Buddy Bourne, both of whom are on the injured list this week.

Bay High is currently 2-1, with a 42-13 victory over Pearl River Central last week and a shutout of the Pass Christian Pirates the week before. Their only loss so far has been their opener against Stone County.

All five of the first five games on Bay High's schedule are district and conference games, and Williams said a victory over Vancleave this week could help the Tigers in district play.

"We are showing a lot of improvement on our squad but we are still relying upon individuals who are not playing up to their full potential," Williams stated.

"We are working hard to improve both our running and passing attacks."

"Defensively, we are working on certain areas which still need a lot of attention, and if we can improve these areas it will help the squad a great deal," the coach added.

Williams asks that fans travel to Vancleave to support the Tigers.

"Come along and cheer your Tigers on," he said. The game begins at 7:30 p.m. in Vancleave stadium.

Opponent refuses to fight, Dorr wins by default

Houston J. Dorr II of Kiln is the winner of a match in the Hattiesburg Police Benefit Boxing and Karate Contests conducted Saturday.

Dorr was proclaimed winner by default when his scheduled opponent, who watched Dorr warm-up, declined to fight.

As a special event at the contest held in Hattiesburg, Dorr fought an exhibition round with Tim Smith.

Smith is the fifth ranked Golden Glove boxer in the United States and Dorr says it was an honor just to be in the ring with this boxer.

Dorr is a member of the Mississippi Highway Patrol, has been assigned to Hancock County for the past five years.

Bay High girls beat OLA in double volleyball series

Our Lady Academy came out on the short end of a best-two-of-three girls volleyball series against Bay High at Tiger Stadium Sept. 17. BHS beat OLA's Varsity Team 15 to 11, lost 13 to 15, and came back to win 16 to 14.

Winner must score a minimum of 15 points with a two-point margin.

Our Lady Academy starting line up includes Nicole Montagnet, Cynthia Martinovich, Shannon Maggio, Shannon Williams, Jan Scardino, and Rachel Hays, Liz Haas and Brandi Angell.

Hass and Angell did not play in the Bay High Game.

Harry Hull, coach for the OLA team, said, "We are expecting a lot from the girls this season. They are an experienced and cohesive group; they enjoy being with each other;

and they show excellent sportmanship."

Hull feels that volleyball is an excellent competitive team sport for girls.

Volleyball needs well conditioned athletes. Fundamentals are extremely important, he said.

Theresa Ryan, assistant coach for the OLA team, is an alumna of OLA who played basketball as a student.

The OLA team has been practicing for about three weeks almost everyday outdoors. Consequently, it is said that the girls have the best tans in the league from outdoor workouts!

They do use the gym at St. Paul School in Pass Christian from time to time. All OLA games are away.

The roster for the BHS team is Kim Kranky, Holli DeCamp, Shannon Davis, Patsi Rogers, Hope Kranky, and Resa Gagnon.

Nick Seymour, the Bay High School Coach, stated, "I thought we played extremely well even though we had three inexperienced players in the beginning line up."

This is Seymour's third year at Bay High School. He has changed girls' volleyball from an intramural to a serious competitive sport.

He works with the 17-and-under Junior Olympics and is very interested in developing volleyball at the high school level.

The BHS team also beat the OLA "B" team 15 to 9 and 15 to 6.

The rival teams of Our Lady Academy and Bay High School play in an eight-team district that also includes Long Beach, Biloxi, Saint Martin, Pascagoula, Our Lady of Victory and Mercy Cross High Schools.

Each team plays every other team twice before meeting in the District Tournament on Oct. 27, 28, and 29 at Biloxi High School.

The B team or junior varsity teams have an earlier tournament at Saint Martins on Saturday, Sept. 26.

At the District Tournaments, ranking by wins and losses during the season gives placement in the tournament. The win loss record for the playing season does not determine who is the District A Tournament Winner.

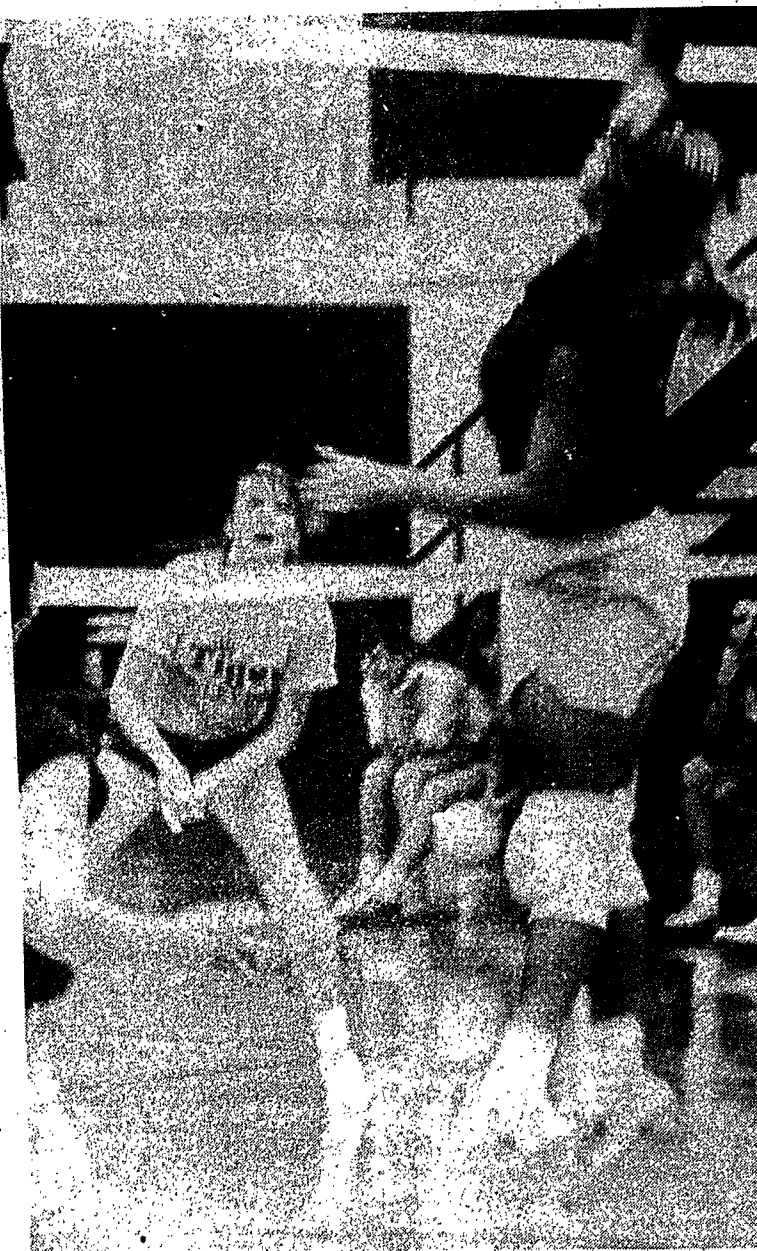

Bay High and Our Lady Academy meet again Oct. 1, at 6 p.m. at Tiger Stadium.

Cromwell, Gonzales victorious in SSC Fall Tennis Classic

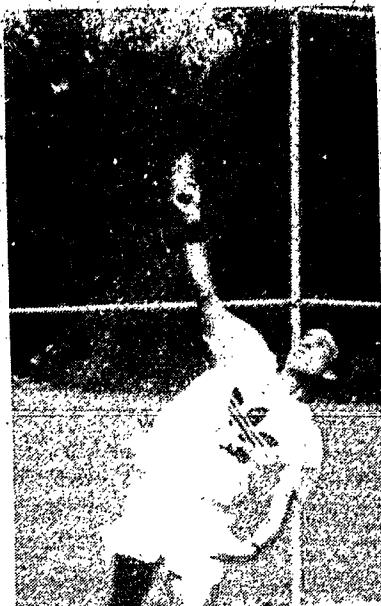

Sophomore Mike Cromwell employed a big serve and deep groundstrokes to defeat defending champion and top-seeded Sean Doublet Sunday in the "Over 14" Division of the Third Annual St. Stanislaus Fall Tennis Classic.

Cromwell defeated Doublet in two sets, 6-3 and 6-4.

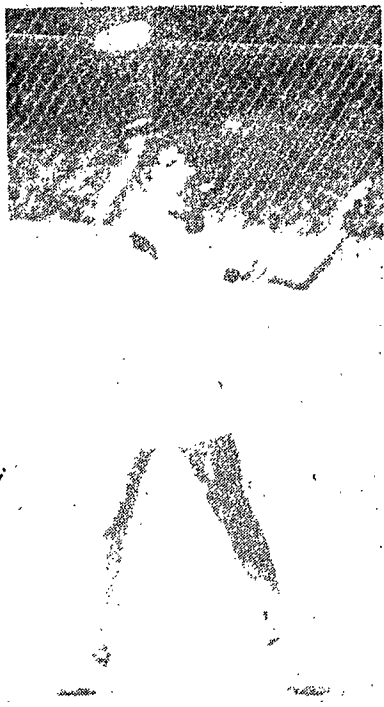

In the "14's and Under" Division, top-seeded seventh grader Manuel Gonzales displayed textbook-style groundstrokes and volleys to overcome unseeded freshman Manning Montagnet in a thrilling two-set match by a score of 6-4 and 6-2.

Also, in the "Over 14's" Division, sophomore Robert Schutt of SSC was the consolation winner while Scott Barnes of Bay High won the "14 and Under" consolation.

Pirates and Hawks to tangle Friday in Pass Christian

The Hancock North Central Hawks will travel this week to Pass Christian to take on the Pirates.

The Hawks have had the past week off and Head Coach Irvin Favre says this time allowed some the players injured or bruised in the first games of the season to heal.

"It was good to have the time to allow people to heal and we have been working on fundamentals and conditioning," he said.

"We will be playing at the Pass Christian stadium and although the Pirates have no wins at this time they have played three tough games," Favre said.

"We must go in there and execute our offense and defense as we have practiced," he continued.

Favre said mental preparation is being stressed because any team can win in a given game.

It is important that the Hawks have the right mental attitude when the game begins or they could get beat, he said.

"People have said the Hawks may not have much to worry about this week because of the Pirates record," Favre said.

"But you still have to prepare the same way because anybody can beat you when you are not prepared," he said.

Vann posted a 139-59-2 record in 20 seasons (1949-1968) as head coach at USM. Vann family members were in attendance at the game to receive a plaque from NFFHF executive director Jimmy McDowell, and a large group of players who performed for Vann also were in attendance to honor USM's alltime winning coach.

Greg Necaise leads PRC defense in 38-14 NE win

If the Pearl River College Wildcats want to get back into the thick of the South Division race they will have to stop the high-flying Eagles of Hinds Junior College this week at home.

The Eagles are led by quarterback Mike Burch—the same Burch the Wildcats chased all over the field last year before winning 14-7 at Raymond.

"The Eagles have a tremendous offense," said Mike Nelson, the Wildcats' head coach. "With Burch at quarterback, they are a super threat on every play."

Hinds has won over Delta (43-14) and Coahoma (24-0) but they lost to Southwest 23-19. "This is the best football team we have played all year," Nelson said. "I think they should be undefeated at this time."

The Wildcats opened with a 58-0 win over Coahoma before losing 13-6 to Jones. This past week the Cats eased by Northeast 38-14.

"This is a key South Division matchup," Nelson said. "We are both 2-1 overall, but we have a loss in the South. Another setback may be too much to overcome."

Nelson used a revised starting backfield this past week to nudge a very good northeast Tiger team. "I really like what I saw last Thursday," Nelson said. "We just want to keep the momentum for this game this week."

PRC running back Thurman Geathers missed last week's game and will not be ready for at least another couple of weeks. Jerry Rush, who was moved from wingback to fullback to take up the slack, rushed for 134 yards on 13 attempts.

"Winning this week without Geathers is very important," said Nelson. "If we get by Hinds, then Thurman should be ready for our game against East Central on October 10th.

In three games the PRC defense has given up only 195 yards rushing and 163 passing. The Hinds' offense, on the other hand, has averaged more than 400 total yards per game.

The game will start at 7 p.m. in the Dobie Holden Stadium.

NE DEVASTATED
The passing tandem of Scott Nease to Arthur Dozier worked like a charm Thursday night Sept. 17 as Pearl River College hung a 38-14 loss on Northeast, raising its mark to 2-1. Northeast fell to 1-1-1.

The Wildcats had 345 all-purpose yards, smothering Northeast in the first half by racing to a 17-0 lead.

The Wildcats scored 10 points in the first quarter, seven in the second, seven in the third and 14 in the final stanza.

Kicker Joey Tatum opened the scoring for PRC, booting a 33-yard field goal at 5:27 of the first quarter. In the same period, Wildcat quarterback Scott Nease passed 24 yards to Hattiesburg High product Arthur Dozie at 2:27 to increase the Wildcats' lead to 10-0.

Pearl River took a 17-0 lead at 4:27 of the second quarter on an 11-yard run by Nease, followed by Tatum's PAT.

In the third period, the onslaught continued, as Nease—who wound up with 7 completions of 13 attempts—connected with Dozier again, for 12 yards to make the score 23-0. Tatum made the extra point conversion.

Northeast ended its scoring drought at 7:36 of the third period when Jimbo Goddard scampered four yards for a touchdown.

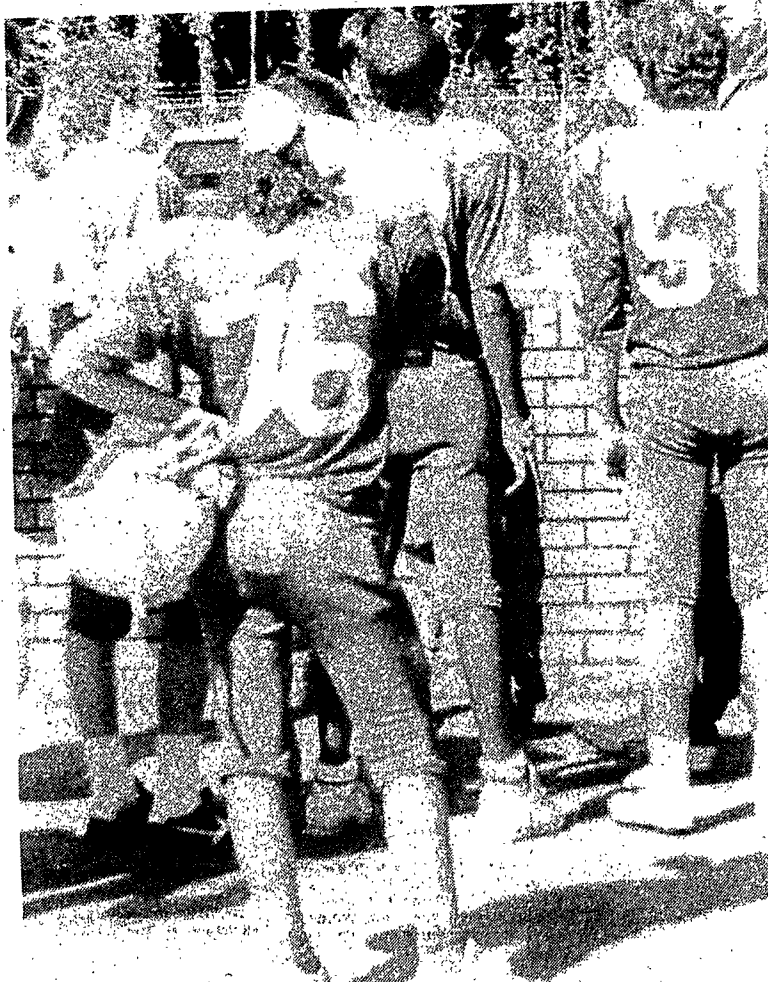

PRC made it 31-7 when Chris Collins passed to Chris Hoz for 14 yards at 8:09 in the fourth period. Tatum's extra point made it 31-7, until Raymond Monica passed to Arnie Burcham for Northeast.

PRC rounded out the scoring in the fourth period on a 52-yard run by Jerry Rush with 2:13 to play. Rush was the leading rusher for the game with 134 yards on 13 carries.

Greg Necaise recorded nine tackles to lead the defense for the third straight week.

Dozier was the leading receiver with 2 catches for 37 yards and 2 TD's.

"This was a very important ballgame to get under our belt after being beaten by Jones last week," said PRC head coach Mike Nelson. "Now we must get ready for Hinds Junior College who we will play Saturday in Poplarville."

1. Owner unrestricted in use of property
 2. Contractor will not work on property. Any digging on private property is owner's responsibility
 3. All maintenance performed outside of property boundaries
- ##### Disadvantages:
1. Higher tie in cost to property owner
 2. Possible problems in achieving slope of gravity flow line from house to unit
 3. Unit and pole subject to damage from vehicles, machinery, etc., which may increase maintenance costs
 4. Service pole highly visible and unattractive-control panel will be mounted minimum of five feet above ground level
 5. Cost of poles may increase construction cost to individual homeowner
 6. Highly susceptible to vandalism

Private Property Installation

Advantages:

1. Minimum tie in cost to homeowners
2. Unit can be better protected from damage
3. May be located at homeowners designated spot
4. More attractive appearance
 - a. no service pole-control panel mounted on house
 - b. less "visible" to casual observer
5. Less susceptible to vandalism

Disadvantages:

1. Permanent restriction on use of property
2. Access to property for maintenance must be granted
3. Contractor and equipment come onto property for installation

Some frequently asked questions:

Q. Do I have to tie into the sewerage system?

A. Yes, the Environmental Protection Agency grant conditions require that when sewerage is available, everyone must tie in.

Q. What will my tie-in cost be?

A. The plumbing cost to connect the house sewerage discharges to the grinder pump and the electrical cost to provide a 220 volt electrical circuit to the control panel. These costs will be incurred by the homeowner whether installation is on street or on private property. Installation must be done by licensed plumber and licensed electrician.

Q. Can I still discharge "gray water" from (shower, tub, sink, washing machine, etc.) into the canal, bayou, or ditch?

A. No, all discharge must be connected to this sewerage system.

Q. Can two or more homeowners share and connect to a single grinder pump unit?

A. No.

Q. What will happen to my existing septic tank?

A. The septic tank may not be used after sewerage is available. A final decision about pumping out, filling, removing, or simply abandoning the septic tank has not been made yet.

Q. What is the last day I can notify the district to confirm a private property installation?

A. October 15. Easements not received by that date with confirmation of clear title and unaltered service agreement will result in a street installation.

HNC's talented and gifted students celebrate Constitution's 200th birthday

The Talented and Gifted students from elementary, junior high and senior high schools at Hancock North Central produced creative projects in observance of the 200th birthday of the United States Constitution.

All projects dealt with the preamble or the seven articles of the constitution. These were signed by the Founding Fathers Sept. 17, 1787. Teachers from the respective schools judged the projects. Riva Brown was the winner of the seventh through 11th grade project. First place elementary winner is Betsy Moore. Tanisha Necaise is the second place elementary winner. The projects are on display in Mrs. Lois Abrams' Talented and Gifted Classroom.

FIRST PLACE—Hancock North Central High School Principal David Kopf congratulates Riva Brown on her first place prize for a Constitution project in celebration of the Bicentennial of the United States Constitution. She is the daughter of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. David Brown. Miss Brown's project will contribute to her grades in Social Studies class and the Talented and Gifted program. (Staff photo by Brenda Heathcock)

Bay High Reunion scheduled

Former students of Bay St. Louis High School between and including the years of 1935 and 1945 will host a reunion on Dec. 5 at the Bay Waveland Yacht Club.

Those former students who attended or graduated from Bay High, their spouses or guests are encouraged to attend, renew old acquaintances, and reminisce about the "good ol' days."

Graduation from Bay High is not a prerequisite for attending, according to Pat Murphy Sr. of Bay St. Louis, coordinator.

Names of former students and teachers, their addresses and telephone numbers are requested as well as additional volunteers for Committees. All are urged and welcomed, said Hubert Cowand of Gulfport, co-chairman.

There will be an orchestra playing tunes of the "Glen Miller Era" for dancing or listening pleasure. Hors d'oeuvres will be served and there will be a cash bar.

Reservations and payment of $10 per person must be received no later than Nov. 28.

Those interested in attending should make note of the date and contact any of the following individuals as soon as possible for reservations: Alicia Rollins Ellis, 452-4143; Hubert Cowand, 896-0803; Jim Evans, 467-9861; Bertha Irene Koch Morris, 255-9492; Pat Murphy, 467-6453; Beverly Davis Potts, 504-833-9602; and Lillian Olsen Baxter, 467-7162;

ELEMENTARY DIVISION—Betsy Moore, right, is the first place winner in the elementary division of the Talented and Gifted Constitution project competition at Hancock North Central. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Moore. Tanisha Necaise is the second place winner in the elementary division and she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Necaise. (Staff photo by Brenda Heathcock)

CONSTITUTION PROGRAM—Vicky Israel, an eighth grade student, shows her projects in Hancock North Central Talented and Gifted's program to celebrate the 200th birthday of the United States Constitution. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carle B. Israel Jr. (Staff photo by Brenda Heathcock)

Pass Christian Schools observing school bus safety

The Pass Christian Public School District is observing National School Bus Safety Week Sept. 20-26.

All schools in the district are displaying safety posters reminding students and adults of safe transportation practices.

Additional safe practices are being observed as students are trained during the year on bus evacuation drills.

In addition, bus drivers have had instruction this year in railroad crossing safety through the help of Elmer May of the CSX Railroad Line and Investigator Thomas Pustay of the Pass Christian Police Department.

According to Robert White, transportation supervisor, safety is an ongoing process and will be emphasized throughout the year. White stressed that many adult drivers forget that yellow caution lights indicate that the bus is slowing to stop.

Red lights and the stop arm means students are loading and unloading and no vehicles are permitted to pass. Yellow hazard lights indicates that the bus is stopping at a railroad crossing. School bus safety is everyone's responsibility, according to White.

Ole Miss sponsoring law career counseling

Anyone interested in a career in the legal profession can meet and visit with a University of Mississippi School of Law official at recruiting sessions set for Tuesday, Sept. 29, at the Harrison County Courthouse in Gulfport and Wednesday, Sept. 30, at the Harrison County Courthouse in Biloxi.

Prospective law students, their parents, pre-law advisers, career counselors and other interested persons are encouraged to participate in one of the workshops. Bettye L. Davis, coordinator of admissions and recruitment at the Ole Miss Law School, will be at the above locations between 9:30 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Ms. Davis will offer career guidance counseling. "We encourage interested students to take advantage of this opportunity to come by and discuss any aspect of law as a career, including the Law School Admission test, undergraduate study and scholarship offerings," she said.

She will also be able to discuss the Law School's job placement procedure and job opportunities available in the field of law. While some of the school's graduates find jobs on their own, 85-90 percent are employed through the placement office. Ms. Davis said, "Our placement rate is excellent and our full-time placement director matches our graduates with the right employer."

During law school, a student may also serve summer clerkships and semester internships which are also coordinated through the Law School.

For additional information, contact Ms. Davis at The University of Mississippi School of Law, University, MS 38677; telephone (601) 232-7361.

Good Attitudes Important Factors in Teen Lifestyles

By Ann F. Jarratt

Attitudes affect what happens in people's lives and often determine the actions taken.

Attitudes determine choices, friends, time use and other resources.

One teen wanted to know, "Why do teenagers get an 'I don't care' attitude toward their life?"

The answer would be that it's because of the rotten things that have happened to them. Not necessarily so. Many people have rotten things happen, but they don't all have an "I don't care" attitude about life. The difference is in the attitude taken toward the things that happen to them. A defeat causes some people to quit; it causes others to try twice as hard as before. It all depends on attitude. Many of the people we call successful had to overcome failure—sometimes repeated failure—to reach their goals. Some people who act as if they don't care about their life may actually be wanting and needing to see and hear from others that they are important and worthwhile.

Another person wanted to know, "Why do young girls want to get married as soon as they are out of high school?"

There are probably as many reasons as there are young girls. There is a hopeful sign—more young people are waiting until they are older (late twenties) to get married.

Back to the question asked. Research tells us that some girls rush into marriage to get out of a bad home life. The unfortunate thing about that is that they often find themselves no better off because they have not learned the skills to relate to a marriage partner. The same behaviors that caused problems with parents may cause problems with a spouse.

We also know that some girls who have not prepared themselves for a career look to an early marriage as a way to have someone to take care of them financially. A major problem with that kind of thinking is that most women today will be required sometime during their life to support themselves and their children, either because of divorce, the husband's death or husband's loss of income. It's much easier to prepare for a career before marriage, and particularly before children are born.

Unfortunately, some young women marry at an early age to give an unplanned baby a name. Statistics show that the divorce rate is very high for marriages of this type.

A person with a related question wanted to know, "Is 16 too young to get married?"

It is unless the 16-year-old has finished high school; finished the training required to prepare her to compete in the job market; and is mature enough to handle the relationship of marriage and its responsibilities, including budgeting and managing money.

Speaking of money, a teen wrote, "Why do teenagers spend money uncontrollably?"

Once again, we can't lump all teenagers into a big pile and say they are all terrible money managers and extravagant spenders. We do know that teens are an important consumer group.

However teens who have goals for themselves and their future plan for the financial means to reach those goals. They budget for their immediate needs, and have a savings plan for future needs.

USM Theatre features tragic story

HATTIESBURG—The tragic story of a late 18th century woman consumed with self-destruction will be featured this fall as the University of Southern Mississippi's Department of Theatre and Dance stages its first production of the 1987 fall semester.

Henrik Ibsen's classic drama, "Hedda Gabler," will be presented in the Hartwig Arena Theatre on the USM campus at 8 p.m. each evening Sept. 29 through Oct. 3, with a matinee performance scheduled for 2 p.m. Oct. 4.

The production will be directed by Theatre and Dance Chairman Dr. I.

Blaine Quarnstrom. USM junior Suzie Duck of Gloster will serve as an actress and assistant director for the play, and Myra Bullington will design the lavish period costumes for the production.

The Ibsen drama centers around the impetuous Hedda—a frustrated, strong-willed woman.

Recently married, Hedda is bored with society and her young professor husband. Through her coniving, she is ultimately drawn into a dark world filled with attempted suicide and odious blackmail before the final curtain falls.

In addition to Lynne Hatcher of Red Bay, Ala. in the starring role of Hedda, and Karilyn Atteberry of Milton, Fla., as Aunt Julia—the "Gabler" cast includes these Mississippians: Charles Phelps of McComb in the role of George Tesman; Arnold Sartin of Pontotoc as Judge Brack; Bobby King of Jackson as Ellert Louborg; Lulu Ward of Ocean Springs as Thea Elvsted; and Suzie Duck of Gloster as Berte the Maid.

Tickets for the performances are $4 for adults, $2 for students. Telephone reservations can be made by calling the USM Box Office at 266-4999.

USM accepts $100,000 to combat drug abuse

HATTIESBURG—As part of a nationwide effort to promote "a drug-free learning environment" in the nation's schools, the University of Southern Mississippi has received a grant of more than $100,000 from the federal government to upgrade and expand its educational programs dealing with substance abuse.

USM has received a $100,177 grant from the U.S. Department of Education for a two-year program to combat alcohol and drug abuse among college students.

"The story throughout this program will be the primary prevention of substance abuse," said Dr. Joe Paul, dean of student development at USM and director of the project.

"USM was one of 92 universities chosen to receive the grant, and this program is an opportunity to address the problem and provide educational programs to combat it."

Paul said the USM program would approach the problem through education, referrals and enforcement of existing laws with "heavy emphasis" on the educational component.

Following the establishment of a director and staff to run the program, some 150 substance abuse workshops are planned for various student groups, faculty organizations and the general public, Paul said.

"We want to communicate our vision of a drug-free learning environment," Paul added. "And with customized training components emphasizing value-based, personal issues, we can contrast substance abuse and the world of work for career-oriented college students."

According to Paul, the number one 'drug of preference' among college students is alcohol, but there is evidence, he said, that the use of marijuana and cocaine on American college campuses has experienced "a slight rise over the past two years."

Although substance abuse is not a major problem on the USM campus, it would be naive to say that abuses did not occur, Paul said, and the use of any illegal drug should be an "important, major concern at any university."

In addition to the value-based educational workshops, future program plans include a "streamlined" referral network for abusers; increased cooperation between university and community officials on abuse issues; and a series of conferences to inform parents of the scope and purpose of the USM-based program.

Paul said he is optimistic that the program will expand beyond the two-year grant period and will become a "help-oriented" program for the university in the future.

CO-OP EDUCATION

Jacob J. Dupree of Bay St. Louis is participating in the Cooperative Education Program at Mississippi State University.

As a major in the area of mechanical engineering, Dupree is working toward a BS degree and at the same time is working as a co-op student on alternating semesters with Mississippi Power Company in Gulfport.

The five-year Cooperative Education Program allows a student in various fields of accountancy, agriculture and home economics, arts and sciences, business and industry, education, engineering, and forestry to affiliate with a business, industrial or governmental firm while enrolled at Mississippi State University.

By combining practical experience with theoretical training, this program provides the student with a superior education.

Once all of the degree requirements are complete, Dupree will begin full-time work with the cooperating firm or will join another firm which requires this particular training.

GEDmaterial available in Dollar General Store

SCOTTSVILLE, KY.—Early in this century, a Tennessee third grader named J.L. Turner quit school to support his family when his father was killed in a wrestling match.

Years later, the same J.L. Turner opened the very first Dollar General Store in Springfield, Ky. With very little education he had laid the foundation for what now is the 1,300-store Dollar General Corporation.

There were no General Educational Development (GED) tests in those days. The only way to get a high school diploma was to attend 12 years of school and graduate.

Today, it would be extremely difficult if not impossible for someone to accomplish what the late J.L. Turner achieved.

To help its customers learn about local learn-to-read, tutoring and GED testing programs, Dollar General Corp. is offering free information in its stores in the East, South and Midwest.

Shoppers may find brochures that contain postage-paid post cards in the stores. On the post card, persons can note the programs that interest them.

Once mailed to Dollar General headquarters in Scottsville, all requests then will be forwarded to the appropriate state offices, which will deliver details on programs nearest to the person who sent the card.

"We believe there are a lot of people who have the drive and potential that J.L. Turner had, and we want to help them achieve their goals by simplifying the process," said Cal Turner Jr.—J.L. Turner's grandson and president of Dollar General Corporation.

"Based on our experiences and discussions with national adult education officials, making information accessible to people seemed to be the best way we could help someone learn to read or enroll in GED classes."

Dollar General decided to make its stores information centers because there are no clearing houses for information on such programs.

"In many instances, people had to make several long-distance telephone calls to an office in a state capital, and it often took weeks to learn which, if any, programs were offered in their communities," he said. "We saw the opportunity to serve our customers by getting them the information they need at no charge to them."

In addition to offering the in-store brochure and using Dollar General employees to route the requests to appropriate state agencies, the company is reinforcing its offer through a series of radio advertisements. "By making the information easy to get, we hope to encourage people to take that important step toward changing their lives," Turner said.

Kentucky GED recipient and Dollar General employee Patty Perry said the GED improved her life in several ways.

"I was a Dollar General warehouse worker when I took the test. Now I'm a payroll clerk," she said. "And having the diploma made me feel like more of a complete person. It was a great achievement for me."

Dollar General's program has been endorsed by the American Council on Education and state administrators of adult education programs. Last year, about 450,000 Americans passed the GED test. About 850,000 dropped out of high school.

KALEIDOSCOPE OF DREAMS

For a young, unmarried girl to dream of a big fish means she will marry into wealth. If a married woman has the same dream, she will receive a lovely gift from her husband.

COULD YOU HAVE . . .

. . . a pinched nerve? Many people suffer from pinched nerves and don't know the spine can be the cause. Sometimes, the vertebrae in the spine become misaligned, causing pressure on the nerves. Sometimes this causes back pain, sometimes not. Instead of feeling back pain, you may experience tingling, tightness, hot spots, cold spots, crawling sensations, burning, electric shock sensations, or stinging. These strange sensations are often symptoms of a pinched nerve. Don't wait for it to get worse. Find out now if chiropractic can help you. Call Today!

1/2 TEASPOON GINGER 1/4 CUP OIL
1 GARLIC CLOVE, MINCED 1/4 CUP SOY SAUCE
3 TBSP. HONEY OR SUGAR 1/4 CUP LEMON JUICE
2 TABLESPOONS VINEGAR OR LEMON JUICE
